CIMC Youth Council Wanted

What is the Youth Council -

California Indian Manpower Consortium, Inc. (CIMC) is recruiting Youth 16 - 24 years of age, who are residing in the CIMC service area. The goal is to increase leadership skills in the Native American youth in CIMC's service area, by providing skills in developing a Youth Council handbook, attendance logs, meeting minutes, youth surveys, and policies.

Youth Council members will assume leadership roles for their communities, informing CIMC youth challenges and setting goals and objectives to meet those challenges. Youth Council members will pass motions, develop policies and strategies regarding technology and Workforce Development, and work with their peers to make sure that young people have ample opportunities to develop strong programs that will prepare them for the future of work.

When and Where will the Council meet -

The Youth Council will have three quarterly meetings starting in March of 2020. The ANA Project Coordinator will also host three webinar meetings, and one five - day training session with the youth council in digital literacy, coding fundamentals, and the operational logistics of a Youth Council.

Meeting place and time will be announced once Youth Council is selected.

What will the Youth Council do -

Youth will identify related problems, concerns, maintain bylaws and policies, create a youth handbook, relay information to community members, and keep updated information on the 7th Generation Coders. Youth will be a part of the interview process for coders boot camp applicants, continual success of the Youth Council, and maintain organization within the Youth council.

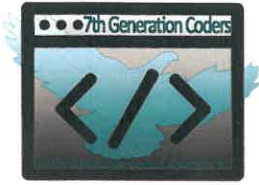

The Youth Council will develop leadership roles, by helping and informing other youth with challenges of coders boot camp, setting goals for future programs, helping meet deadlines for the program, and bringing useful information to make the program stronger.

Requirements for the Youth Council -

- Must be 16 - 24 Years of Age
- Must Reside in CIMC Service Area
- Must be nominated by your Tribal Council, CIMC Workforce Development Coordinator and / or ANA Project Coordinator
